

Hey, my name's Nat.

I'm a Product Designer

I'm based in Toronto, and through my full-time and contract gigs I aim to create smooth, beautiful user experiences in fundamental industries including Healthcare, Education and Charity.

My tools look like this:

Figma

Photoshop

Illustrator

VS Code

GitHub

After Effects

I like to build what I design.

In my spare time I work on building my own web pages and apps because interaction and engagement with a design is what interests me most.

UX Research

Prototyping

HTML

CSS

JS

10 Years of Professional Design

I've worked with many small teams over the last 10 years, and so my responsibilities typically start at research and discovery, and end at spec'ing out production-ready mockups for developers to build.
